BIG DOG - BIG RULES

- ▶ TWO Meat Categories: Pork Ribs and Chicken
 - "MEAT CANNOT ALREADY BE MARINATED". Upon arrival inspectors will inspect all meat to make sure it is free of any marinades or dry rubs, preferably in a sealed package. The inspector also will check to make sure that the meat is held at 40 degrees or less. Once inspected, it may not leave the competition area. After inspection any dry rubs, marinades, injections, etc. can be applied to meat as the competitor wishes.

> JUDGING RULES:

- Begins at 3:00 pm (Blind Judging)
 - Each competitor will be given per meat sample for presentation to the judges
 - Once the container enters the judging area, the container will have no visible identifying numbers or marks to ensure judges have no idea whose samples they are judging.
 - ▶ Entries will be submitted for judging at appointed times, with the 1st judging scheduled at 3:00 pm
 - Submission times will be assigned and presented at registration
- ▶ SCORING:
 - ▶ Entries will be scored on the following: appearance, taste and tenderness
 - Entries will be assigned weighted values with taste being the greatest and appearance the least.
